

A special thanks go out to our judges – Kem Barbosa and Gretchen Verbonic. Both are still traveling towards home (yes it IS Monday morning).

Kem was on her way to Newark Airport on Friday when she received a phone call that all flights were cancelled and she would not get out til sometime on Saturday. So, she turned around and headed south in her car. She arrived, after driving through some horrendous weather, at about 2 AM! And was still bright and chipper on Saturday! She headed back Sunday after the show finished with the idea of stopping for the night along the way.

Gretchen is still in the Atlanta airport – all flights cancelled. She left RDU Sunday evening, got to Atlanta to change planes.....and is still there! There were NO flights, NO hotel rooms, NO rental cars available.

Makes you hunger for the high speed rail system they have in Europe.

Oh yeah – if it looks like it was a one man show – it pretty much was. Jim Koford rode 8 horses in 18 different classes...with no reader. He never went off course....and he wore his show jacket in all classes even tho jackets had been waived.

Super weekend. Thanks for coming.
